HUBS - Type-C

Increase the connection capacity of your computer, tablet or mobile phone with this spectacular type-C HUB. Thanks to the new Type-C interface, we can connect multiple devices to compatible devices. In principle, it is compatible with any device with a C port, including mobile phones or tablets.

With a single connection cable to our computer or mobile, we can add several ports, a card reader or a standard HDMI cable.

With this model, we can output the video from a tablet or mobile phone to an external monitor or television (some devices may not offer this option, but most of those that include type-C will). And all this at the same time, time it charges the device it has connected to. That is, we can watch a movie from our mobile on an external television while charging the mobile.

Made of aluminum, it has a large surface for logo marking.
